The Lenten season of forty days fasting which means measurable abstinence from the richer foods that are common with most people on other days of the year, begins with Ash Wednesday.

BONDSMEN OF DEFUNCT BANK MUST PAY COUNTY

Rogers, Ark., Feb. 15.—One of the last chapters to the collapse of the Bank of Rogers, one of the oldest banking institutions in Northwest Arkansas, is to be written tomorrow when Sheriff Harry Blake is to sell the real estate of the bondsmen of the bank to satisfy judgment of $50,417.50 in favor of the county for public funds on deposit in the bank when it closed its doors last August. The money was chiefly school funds and every district in the county, except one, lost of its finances in the crash.

The bondsmen are W. E. Talley, former president of the bank and formerly of St. Louis; W. R. Felker, founder of the bank; F. F. Freeman, J. E. Felker of this city, and A. L. Williams of Fayetteville. The county had secured only $4,400 from the bondsmen.

RUSSIAN BORN MAN IS GERMAN SYMPATHIZER

J. D. Buckholz, one of our prosperous German farmers living on rural route No. 2 out of Monett, was in town, Monday, and visited the Times office. He is much interested in the European war, he having been born in Russia, near Warsaw.

Mr. Buckholz is of German parentage, and though born in Russia has no kindly feeling for that country. He said he would rather have been a black slave in the United States than to have been a soldier in the Russian army.

When nineteen years old, Mr. Buckholz escaped over the border of Russia into Germany to avoid being drafted in the Russian army where he would have been forced to serve six years. From Germany he came to the United States.

Mr. Buckholz is a strong German sympathizer. He believes that England is to blame for the terrible war now going on.

Mr. Buckholz has often been near the Vistula river. He says it is larger than the Missouri but not so large as the Mississippi river.
